

Evaluation from ICYC

The collaboration between ICYC and ACPELIA on the PDA project has proven to be one of the most impactful partnerships in our organization's recent history. From start to finish, the project was exceptionally well-organized, with ACPELIA demonstrating a high level of professionalism, attention to detail, and commitment to creating a meaningful learning environment for all participants.

Our youth workers returned with a wealth of new knowledge, skills, and tools that they were able to immediately implement in their daily work with young people. The content delivered—particularly focused on entrepreneurship and the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)—was of strategic importance. Participants reported that these topics not only broadened their perspective but also equipped them with practical approaches that could be applied in real-world settings. The short timeframe in which our participants were able to assimilate this knowledge and begin sharing it with youth back home is a testament to the quality of the program and the methods used.

Moreover, the location and logistics provided by ACPELIA contributed to a life-changing experience. The environment was conducive to learning, sharing, and creating bonds across cultures, and participants unanimously expressed their appreciation for the inspiring atmosphere and seamless organization.

For ICYC, the PDA project offered more than just individual development; it was a moment of institutional growth. The insights and methodologies gained by our youth workers have been integrated into our long-term strategic approach. We consider this knowledge as a valuable addition to our organizational capacity, which will enhance the quality and depth of our future youth work initiatives.

We are grateful for this opportunity and look forward to continuing our collaboration with ACPELIA in future impactful projects.

Best regards,

President of ICYC NGO
Mikael Mikayelyan